Dispatches received to-day said Chinese attacked the customs building where Allen was conferring with Finance Minister-Soong of the Cantonese Government. The crowds invaded the corridors and attacked Soong's bodyguard, but were finally dispersed by Cantonese troops.

REFUGEE EXPERIENCED FORTY DAY SIEGE IN THE CHINESE CITY OF HANKOW

The first British settlers who evacuated the foreign settlements of Wu-Han centre, comprising Hankow, Wu-Chan, and Han Yang, reached British soil after months of harrowing ordeals, as passengers on board the R.M.S. Empress of Asia, this afternoon.

Missionaries, for the most part, with their wives and children, including many infants in arms, the Hankow party painted a dismal picture of the situation in the Far East, and which came to a head in the recent outburst at Hankow and Foochow.

In this group were Rev. J. S. Helps, accompanied by Mrs. Helps, two children of school age and an infant in arms. For the last twenty-five years Rev. Helps has been resident in Hankow, at the head of a printing establishment connected with his missionary work. To The Times on board this afternoon he gave a careful unhiased account of the recent events in Hankow, and the long train of events that led up to the recent outbreaks. "It was in August, 1926, that the Irst Cantonese troops came up from Canton and taid siege to the Wu-Han Centre," he stated. "They had Russian advisers in their ranks and Russian advisers in their ranks and Russian organizers for the work that was to follow. Hankow is one of three towns of the Wu-Han Centre."

Committee on Agriculture at the Parliament Buildings to-day, arrived in the city ready for action. They are earnest men impressed with the importance of their mission, and they claim that the fruit growers have enough problems of a cultural nature to solve without having to worry about marketing results.

These men state that those not engaged in the business have little idea of the highly scientific nature of the fruit-growing industry. The growers are subject to the vagaries of the weather, which may be ideal for together.

Codling moth has been one of the greatest enemies of the grower, but the human element enters into the obstacles met with in dealing with that subject and those nasty words "compulsory legislation" have had to be resorted to to protect the investments of the growers on account of the unwillingness of some to adequately spray their orchards.

In this connection the fruit men pay a glowing tribute to the value to the Okanagan and other districts of the plant of the Oliver Chemical Works at Penticton. Through advanced methods of production the plant has been able to effect a very considerable saving to the growers in the matter of reduced prices on

PAID HIGH PRICE

While the price was formerly $16 per barrel it is now reduced through the action of the Oliver Chemical Company to $11.50, and the barrels are repurchased by the company, making the cost approximately $10.50 net for the spray.

Previous to 1923 the Okanagan growers paid $30.00 per barrel for roller leaf moth spray. For one season the Oliver Chemical Company manufactured this spray on the formula of the Hood River Spray Company, one of the largest spray companies on the continent, and the Penticton plant was able to reduce the cost to the grower to $22.50 per barrel.

Two years ago a new formula was worked out by the Oliver Chemical Company for this spray, and it is now supplying the growers with a superior oil spray at approximately $16.50 per barrel. It is a tribute to the Oliver Company that the famous Hood River Company is now manufacturing under the Oliver formula.

About a month ago Charles E. Oliver, manager of the plant, returned to Penticton from Hood River, where he had been superintending the erection of a new plant for the spray company there, which has also company there, which has also adopted Mr. Oliver's formula for lime sulphur spray. Mr. McIsaac pointed out further that from time to time changes had been made, but always, he claimed, to the disadvantage of the Maritime Provinces and corresponding gain of Western competitors. He said the greatest protection the Western industries could receive would be an adjustment which would allow the Maritime Province concerns to enter into friendly competition. ### GOING STRONG

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S INDUSTRIAL payroll in 1926 jumped to the enormous total $175,000,000 - an increase over 1925 of $15,000,000. These figures, however, are compiled from the actual files of the Workmen's Compensation Board and do not include the payrolls of nonreporting concerns. With these included it is estimated that the wage bill last year was well over $200,000,000.

The full significance of the 1926 total will be better understood when compared with the payroll for 1917. This was $78,725,992—less than half of last year's figure. It will thus be seen that the industrial development of this Province in the last nine years is something of which the people should be justly proud. The facts, at any rate, furnish a complete answer to those political gentlemen who tell us that we are not making any progress.

MR. WOODWARD OFF THE MARK

IN THE LEGISLATURE LAST WEDNESday Mr. Charles Woodward, senior Liberal member for Vancouver City, urged the Government to sell British Columbia House in London and advocated the building of a cold storage plant at Manchestertr handle apples sent to the Old Country from this Province—with the money realized.

Mr. E. J. Chambers, president of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, who has just returned from Great Britain, thanks Mr. Woodward for his interest in the marketing of fruit from this Province; but informs him that there are many available cold storage plants at practically every British port that could be utilized by British Columbia apple exporters if the necessary arrangements were made.

"In the circumstances," Mr. Chambers points out. "I hardly think it would be advisable to spend any of our money for such a purpose." As for selling British Columbia House, he proceeds, "in my opinion that would be poor business, as it is a splendid advertisement for British Columbia."

Nobody doubts Mr. Woodward's good intentions; but if he had made a few inquiries about the facilities at present existing in Great Britain for storing fruit from the Dominions, he would not have shown such a woeful lack of knowledge in regard to matter which is of considerable importance to British Columbia fruit growers.

We do not know whether Mr. Woodward has ent any time in British Columbia House, whether he has taken the trouble to learn the nature of the business which is transacted there; but if he has not, we would recommend to him that on his next European trip he make it his business to watch the staff in action for a day. His eyes would be opened.

As to the cost of operating B.C. House, which Mr. Woodward declares is out of proportion to the benefit derived, we would direct his attention to a correspondent of The Vancouver Province who has lived in British Columbia for twenty years and visits Britain every three. This is what he says, plus a fine tribute to Mr. Pauline and his secretary, Mr.

Is it generally known that the South African Government recently compiled information concerning the operating costs of the London offices conducted by the various Dominion Governments, and at this time it was found that British Columbia House was run at a lower cost than any other Dominion office?

Mr. Woodward is relatively new to pe but this is searcely an extenuation of his tendencyquite evident from time to time-to rush into print or speech without familiarizing himself with facts.

A SUBSTANTIAL DIFFERENCE

ROCK WORK CARRIED OUT ON THE Yoho Road for the Department of Public Works under Dr. Sutherland cost $1.35 per yard. Reck work carried out for the same department under a Conservative Minister on the Malahat Highway cost $2.50 per yard. On loose rock the figures were sixty-five cents per yard and $1.50 per yard re-

This comparison, startling enough, is not complete. The work on the Malahat was done before the war when the cost of labor was much lower than it is at the present time. Rock work on the Yoho contract was carried out after the war when the cost of labor was much higher.

The Conservative Opposition in the Legislature referred to the Yoho job as an example which proved to its satisfaction that contractors under the Liberal Government were getting too much money for the

In his speech in the Legislature on Friday Dr. Sutherland quot d the two cases to show how far wrong his critics were. The public will now be able to judge how much merit there was in the Oppositien's charge. ....

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

OUR LOCAL CONSERVATIVE CONtemporary gives us a novel view of the campaign fund question in the following:

It may be contended that the interests thus reimbursed at the expense of the public for their contribution to the campaign funds of the Liberal Party also contributed to the campaign funds of the Conservative and other parties under an understanding of "assurance and protection." But the other parties were not in a position to carry out the terms of the implied contract—and it did what it was expected to do. If a Conservative Government had been in power we do not believe it would have been guilty of such a blazing political indiscretion, assuming that it would not have been actuated by higher motives.

This is to say that the acceptance of these campaign contributions by the Liberals was improper because their party was in power and able to give "assurance and protection," while it was quite proper in the case of the Conservatives because they were not in power. The contributors, of course, gave campaign funds to the Liberals because they expected something in return, but their contributions to the Conservative funds were inspired solely by their affection for the Conservative Party and their altruistic support of its principles. How they might love one

The fact that these contributions were made chiefly during an election campaign and that our Conservative friends—the morning paper especially—expected to return to office, of course, like the flowers that bloom in the Spring "had nothing to do with the case." Those funds were purified immediately they went into the coffers of the Conservative Party, not only-because they were to be used in the promotion of a holy cause and the election of apostles of political purity, but because they sprang from the lofty, disinterested, passionate devotion the contributors have for the historic principles of the ."Grand Old Tory Party."

The bald truth of course is that both parties would have been well advised to refuse campaign contributions from these sources, which like most other contributors of large sums to party funds, invariably expect favors in return. There is nothing altruistic in this business. That is one reason why The Times has persisted in its demand for legislation which will make it impossible for political parties or other interests having any influence with political parties—including newspapers—to be of any value to the liquor elements. We understand that such legislation is in contemplation. We are informed also that legislation controlling the giving and acceptance of campaign funds also is being considered. Both measures should be comprehensive and drastic, and should be passed without question.

BRITAIN AND CHINA From The Ottawa Citizen

British Foreign Office memorandum dealing with the Chinese problem emphasizes more strongly than ever Britain's conciliatory and friendly attitude towards the far eastern republic. Summarized, the main proposals are: No foreign control on an unwilling country; revision of existing treaties; immediate levy of the Washington suriaxes for the benefit of China, and amendment of the extra-territorial system. Britain further holds the view that "any failure to meet this (nationalist) movement with symmaure to meet this (nationalist) movement with sympa thy and understanding" will be contrary to common sense and the desire of the Powers, that China's right of forcing foreign control on an unwilling China."

The one condition laid down is that the Chinese constitute a government "with powers to negotiate." This is a necessary safeguard and should inspire China with a keener determination to rid itself of disruptive elements and concentrate on the creation of a genuinely representative central authority. It is a matter of deep satisfaction that Washington expresses wholehearted United States accord with Britain in this matter. The United States has all along displayed an eagerness to conciliate China. The united effort of the two great powers should bring about epochal results.

LEST WE FORGET

To the Editor:—I was interested in listening to Dr. Davies recently, especially when he mention Port San Juan (now Port-Renfrew). On April 13, 1893, 9 a.m., I was awaiting the opening of the land Office to precempt. On the night of May I I left Victoria on the Rainbow, taking with me a young man. On the boat I met Mr. H. E. Beir and Mr. E. Dowson bound for the same place. It was a woold stowns wight. The only place in the cabin where there was room to lay down was on the flood under the table. We had scarcely got outside the harbor when I smelt one of the bearings running hot. As an engineer that way one of the smells I most detested and of all the miserable trips I ever had that was the worst. About 9 o'clock next morning I asked the captain when we should get to San Juan. We were past it. He did not know he had any passengers for there. He offered to put the sashore at Carmanah or take us to Cape Scot and bring us back. I elected to get off that boat as quickly as I could. Through the lighthouse keeper we arranged to get to San Juan by Indians in a cance for $10. Two days afterwards the schooner Champion arrived with about a dozen others. To give some idea of the timber: A few days later I got down from my place and the tide had got to low to get back. Mr. Dowson asked me to stay and help him, and shared his lunch with me. While we were eating, some walking around too wet and cold to sit down, we noticed the arather large spruce. It looked from the state of the limber and cold to sit down, we noticed the arather large spruce. It looked from the state of the limber and cold to sit down, we noticed the arather large spruce.

Lomski Beats Tiger

Lomski beats liger

Los Angeles, Jan. 24 — The clowning, slapping and missing of Tiger Flowers, former middleweight ring champion, lost him his argument with Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash, here Saturday, Lomski missed almost as many blows as the deacon-tiger, but he scored with the referee by landing almost two to one. Although Lomski's left sye was practically to closed when the final gong rang, the negro fighter showed the results of heavier punishment. He was bleeding freely at the nose and mouth. Ringside critics gave the Aberdeen scrapper seven rounds, awarded Flowers one, and called the fifth and sixth even. There were no knock-downs, although Lomski stumbled to his knees in the third while delivering a right swing to the jaw. What appeared to be the stiffest blow of the entire fight landed in the pit of the Tiger's stomach toward the finlish of the ninth round. The Aberdeen boy followed with a couple of stiff ones to the belt, leaving the Tiger pretty much tired at the gong.

DISEASED TONSILS

It is quite natural for mothers to fear any trouble which may inevitably lead to an operation. While we believe that there is more "cutting" than necessary done to the human body, we do not believe in hiding our head, like the ostrich, and refusing to look things in the face. All of which by devious ways is leading up to the question of tonsils. What shall one do about them when it has been found, through recurring and frequent colds and sore throats that the fonsils are diseased? This is a fairly easy thing to answer, because if one is sure that the tonsils are diseased? This is a fairly easy thing to answer, because if one is sure that the tonsils are diseased it is believed that the best method is to remove them.

There is always someone who will arise at this point and say fiaily: "But the tonsils must have been put in the body for some purpose and, therefore, you upset this purpose when you remove them." The tonsils, in a healthy state are supposed to be a sort of grand general siever at the gateway of the throat. They stand there and strain the invading bac-

While always insisting on strict discipline among the student and other nurses, Miss Mackenzie was always the first to help in any social function for their relaxation and entertainment, and she was instrumental in organizing many of the diversions which enliven the hard work and tedium of hospital routine, both for the nurses and patients.

To-night the girls of the 1927 training class are holding a social at the hospital in her honor.

At the final Winter band concert last evening at the Crystal Garden given by the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish band, every seat was occupied and, judging from the continuous rounds of applause, the large audience thoroughly enjoyed the programme, made up of request and popular selections. These Sunday evening concerts, under Bandmaster Miler and concert manager George J. Dyke, in their termination have proved popular as usual, and the programmes have maintained their high standard. During the evening many expressed their regrets that these Sunday svening affairs were brought to a conclusion. In all, ten concerts were given, and the community must in a sense feel grateful at the public-spirited manner in which the members of the band carried through these concerts, which are after all only mantained by the voluntary contributions of the public. Many times had he seen murder and slaughter during his many years of experience there, but to-day, with contrary factions clashing in that country and the foreign population actually facing violence, China was no place for peacable men, he said. At the same time, he added, the situation, although acute, was not hopeless.

Talking first of the general condition of Oriental affairs, Mr. Caldwell, who is readily conversant with the Chinese situation, and well fitted to judge its gravity, since he speaks the language of the natives of many different parts, said that he doubted that there would be serious conflict between Chinese and foreign troops. There might be fighting on a small scale, but never any campaign waged on the part of the allied foreign armies. What Great Britain's policy could be, Shrouded in mystery as it was, Mr. Caldwell had no idea. But he declared that in his opinion it would be well to have strong forces at points where they could be rushed to scenes of conflict.

WANT NO WAR

Chinese business men and residents of the Orient of a higher class than the coolies, with the exception, possibly, of the student body, which was a small minority indeed, did not want war, said Mr. Caldwell. China did not want war with foreigners any more than she wanted war with her own factions. The business man, the shopkeeper, the clerk, the millions of middle-class folk, suffered all manner of harm and insult, ill treatment and injustice, said Mr. Caidwell. They did not want war. They would welcome an an army of occupation which would take sides with some strong faction and bring peace and a staple government to the country.

"This is not my opinion," he said, "but that of men more eminent by far than I pretend to be, men who have mixed as much with the matives of the country as I have and who talk their language as I do. They believe, as I believe, that a vast number of Chinese would welcome outside interference. There will be some union of strong Chinese factions with a foreign power or powers and peace will eventually be brought to war-torn China through this means."

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—King Clancy, debonnair youth of twenty summers, whose name has many times sounded throughout hockey's hall of fame, rifled one shot into the cage of the world champion Montreal Maroons and brought a one-to-nothing victory to Ottawa Senators in a National Hockey League tussle here Saturday night which, for its rough and tumble tactics, probably set a record for all time. Fistic combat flared out twice and as a result the record total for one game of six match penalties were toled out. Three men from each club were the defaulting ones and they now rest suspended for one game.

It was only mid-session in the first period when Kilrea, Senator substitute, opened fire on the head of Monreal's veteran defence man, Reg. Yoble, and a battle of fists suplanted the hockey fray. Billy Philips and Captain Georges Boucher iso fought it out. These four playrs were sent to the dressing rooms agged with match fouls and the name continued between the fournam teams. The other match penalies were doled out to Frank Finnigan and the Maroon wing star, Slebert, or fist fighting in the last frame.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Ban Johnson is no longer active president of the American League, the organization he founded twenty-seven years ago.

The American League executive, baseball's storm petrel, was removed from actual control by his club owners last night on the plea that he was suffering from ill-health. He will retain his title and salary for the present as his contract runs to 1935.

The showdown between K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, and Johnson, set for to-day over the dismissal of. Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, will not come off. Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit club and vice-president of the league, was named to assume the duties of president.

The American League club owners, meeting last night after a previous meeting with Johnson, reflecting in any way upon Judge Landis" and commended the commissioner for his efforts in clearing up baseball from insinuations of dishonesty.

Young Has Contracts For Half a Million Dollars; His Pal, Bill, Signs For $25,000

Special dispatches from Los Angeles to-day say that George's first swim since his conquest of the channel was the event of the day for him yesterday. He swam half a mile after getting clear of admiring bathers. Young's publicity representative is quoted as saying that contracts could now be signed which would indicate a return of about half a million dollars on Young's investment in time and training for the swim.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 24—Bill Hastings, pal of George Young in the long motorcycle trek from Toronto to California, yesterday announced he had signed a film contract for a picture in which the seventeen-year-old winner of the $25,000 Santa Catalina Channel swim will not appear. The contract will pay Hastings a minimum salary of $300 a week with a fifty per cent interest in the profits of the film. The scenario is based on the adventures of the two boys on their way from Canada to Southern California in order that Young might compete in the ocean marathon. Young is reported to have a contract for a similar film, under consideration.

MAGNIFICENT KICK

The Caledonians pressed and the ball found touch near the French twenty-five. The line-out saw the leather heaved back to lan Smith, and the Varsity filer raced over for Scotland's second try. Once more Gillies added the major points with a magnificent kick.

Time and again their forwards swept down the field in great dribbing rushes. It was from one of linese attacks that the Caledonians try came when MacPherson picked up and dodged through the entire French three-quarter line and, passaling the ball to Waddell, gave the latter the opportunity to notch his second try, this time under the crossbar. Drysdale took the goal kick and was successful.

A French drive down field was successful in that Hutin romped over, but Gonnet's attempt at goal went wide. Just before the interval the Scots wiped out this mark when lan Smith again obtained possession and touched down, with Gillies once more securing full points.

FRENCHMEN IMPROVED

The second haif saw a vast improvement in the Prenchmen's play, and Du Manoir took a drop at goal, but his kick went wild. Mishandling on the part of France enabled Scotiand to get a Toothold in the visiting twenty-five, and while there it was France's misfortune to be penulized. Drysdale took a penalty kick and secured three points with an excellent goal.

Following this the French forwards broke away and Pipuemal rounded off the movement by sooring, Gonnet again failed to convert.

London, Jan. 24.—Newcastie United further strengthened their grip on the leadership of the First Division of the English soccer league on Saturday when, in a closely fought game, they obtained the edge over Bolton Wanderers by the narrow margin of one to nothing. Glasgow, Jan. 24.—Outstanding in the results of the first round of the Scottish Cup ties played Saturday was the virtual elimination of the Edinburgh district. Both their First Division teams went down to defeat, the Heart of Midlothian at Glasgow, where Clyde secured the right to enter the second round by a margin of three goals to two, and the Hibernians at Cowdenbeath, where they were blanked by three goals. Additional to that, the Leith Athletic were, as expected, the easy victims of Glasgow Rangers. On two second string elevens from the Capital one played well enough to be given another chance. St. Bernard defeated Vale of Atholl by 3-0, and King's Park obtained a win over Third Lanark by the only goal in the game.

CELTIC HELD

One of the surprises of yesterday's play was the game at Dumfries, where Queen of the South held Celtic to a goalless tie.

The cupholders, St. Mirren, had an easy time defeating Arbroath at Paisley, but the exhibition of Motherwell, the league leaders, at Ben's Park, was somewhat unxpected, Dundegening their second chance by blanking Motherwell 3-0. Greenock Morton were badly handled at Alloa, where a similar score was registered against them.

Only three replays will be necessary in the first round, Bathgate being held on the ground by Dunferen, and the capital on the ground by Dunferen, and the capital

Rev. Dr. MacGillioray Reports Many New Churches and Members in Dominion

Growth in the Presbyterian church has been very marked in every Province of the Dominion since separation, according to Rev . Dr. MacGillivray, of Guelph, Ontario, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyteran Church, who is in the city on an official visit. Yesterday he preached at St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Presby-terday he preached at St. Andrew's and St. Paul's Presbyterian Churches.

Since leaving the East at the beginning of the year, Dr. McGillivray has visited and preached in Presbyterian churches in a number of prairie cities, where he found the strength of the church increasing rapidly; and in British Columbis. In Regina a new church has been recently dedicated, and altogether between severity five and 100 new churches have either been built, hought or are in process of erection, in addition to many others projected. A second vote in Ontario, where it was ordered by the Provincial commission on account of irregularities, resulted in four congregations remaining in the Presbyterian Church, instead of going apparently to the United Church as on the first vote, according to Mr. MacGillivray.

With the growth in the number of the churches, the membership has increased considerably since the close of 1925, the Moderator states, and he confidently expects that the 250 preaching centres at present in the west will be doubled before long. The problem of the supply of ministers is still a very real one, and the present supply of 600 should be raised to 750 to meet the need. The work at home and abroad is taking the energies of the church to the utmest, he states.

On Tuesday evening Dr. MacGillivray will address a public meeting in St. Andrew's Church on the subject. The Strength, Need and Outled the control of the church.

Intrepid Forces Which Brought Law Into Canada Are Background for Excellent Film Offering; Antonio Moreno and Renee Adoree in Title Roles

The stirring history of the founding of the great Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, an army of a few who conquered the lawlessness of an almost unexplored empire within the confines of the Dominion of Canada, has been reproduced on the screen by Cosmopolitan and will be seen at the Dominion Theatre under the title, "The Flaming Forest."

This picture, directed by Reginald Barker, famous for his direction of great out-of-doors films, is a screen adaptation by Waldemar Young of James Oliver Curwood's immortal story of the establishing of law and order in a territory of three hundred thousand square miles by some three hundred brave men who dared death daily and always "got their man."

The picture, filmed largely in Canada and Montana, is interpreted by a cast of twenty celebrated players with Antonio Moreno and Renee Adoree in the sleading romantic roles. Among the other celebrated players of the cast are: Gardner James, Oscar Beregi, Tom O'Brien, Capital—"Summer Bachelora."

Mr. Tellegen, who has turned his observation after working with Miss Borden in "Bad Men," the great picture of the early Middle West, directed by John Ford.

"This girl has a dramatic conception, a depth of feeling, an understanding of light and shade in portrayal that I have never seen before in motion picture work," said Mr. Tellegen, "Besides this, she is beautiful, radiant, vivacious and adds to that a personality that is irresistible.

I predict for Oive Borden a great future, and I say this in complete understanding of artistic temperaments as I have known them. It has been my great privilege to play with Duss, Bernhardt—and Olive Borden."

Chickamin

MOST interesting of all is the fact that much of the preliminary exploration work has now been done and a considerable body of ore exposed which can be profitably

This means that Chickamin from now on will attract investors and prices will naturally stiffen. It is therefore obvious that the practical thing to do is to act at the earliest opportunity and be able to compute profit from the level of the original share offering-a limited amount of which is still available at this office. -
